

SENTINELAI (PTY) LTD

Privacy Policy

Version 1.0

Effective Date: 4 July 2026

1. Introduction

Welcome to SentinelAI ("SentinelAI", "we", "our", or "us").

SentinelAI (Pty) Ltd is committed to protecting your privacy and ensuring that your personal information is collected, processed, stored, and shared responsibly and lawfully.

This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, disclose, protect, and retain your information when you use:

- the SentinelAI mobile application;
- the SentinelAI web platform;
- SentinelAI wearable integrations;
- any products or services offered by SentinelAI; and
- our website and related services.

This Privacy Policy has been developed in accordance with the Protection of Personal Information Act, 4 of 2013 (POPIA), and reflects internationally recognised privacy principles.

By creating an account or using SentinelAI, you acknowledge that you have read and understood this Privacy Policy.

2. Definitions

For purposes of this Policy:

Account means a registered SentinelAI user account.

Biometric Data means physiological measurements collected through compatible wearable devices, including but not limited to heart rate, heart rate variability, movement data, fatigue-related indicators, and other sensor-derived information.

Company means SentinelAI (Pty) Ltd.

Employer means an organisation subscribing to SentinelAI on behalf of its employees or authorised users.

Personal Information has the meaning assigned under POPIA.

Platform means the SentinelAI mobile application, web application, APIs, dashboards, and related software.

Services means all products, software, AI systems, wearable integrations, and support services provided by SentinelAI.

User means any individual using SentinelAI, including employees, contractors, administrators, and independent subscribers.

3. Information We Collect

Depending on how you use SentinelAI, we may collect the following categories of information.

3.1 Account Information

3.3 Wearable and Sensor Information

Where compatible wearable devices are connected, SentinelAI may receive:

- Heart rate
- Heart rate variability
- Motion information
- Activity levels
- Fatigue-related indicators
- Sleep-related metrics (where supported)
- Device status

- Device identifiers
- Battery status
- Timestamp information

The specific information collected depends on the wearable hardware being used.

3.4 AI-Generated Insights

Our systems may generate:

- Fatigue risk scores
- Alert classifications
- Safety recommendations
- Wellness trends
- Operational insights
- Predictive safety analytics

These insights are generated automatically using artificial intelligence models.

3.5 Device Information

We may collect:

- Device model
- Operating system
- Browser type
- IP address
- Language settings
- Application version
- Crash reports
- Diagnostic information

3.6 Usage Information

Including:

- Login history
- Session activity
- Features accessed
- User preferences
- System interactions
- Audit logs

3.7 Location Information

Where enabled and permitted by applicable law, SentinelAI may process location information for emergency response, operational safety, or location-aware features.

Location services may be disabled within your device settings where appropriate.

4. Special Personal Information

Some information processed by SentinelAI may constitute special personal information under POPIA.

This may include:

- biometric measurements;
- health-related indicators;
- physiological measurements;
- fatigue-related analytics.

SentinelAI processes such information only where permitted by law, with appropriate safeguards and, where required, with your consent or under another lawful basis.

5. How We Use Your Information

We process personal information to:

- create and manage user accounts;
- authenticate users;
- deliver SentinelAI services;
- generate fatigue assessments;
- provide AI-powered safety monitoring;
- issue alerts and notifications;
- enable emergency response workflows;
- improve platform performance;
- provide customer support;
- investigate technical issues;
- prevent fraud;
- detect misuse;
- comply with legal obligations;
- conduct security monitoring;
- maintain audit records;
- improve our artificial intelligence models using appropriately authorised and protected data.

6. Artificial Intelligence

SentinelAI uses artificial intelligence and machine learning technologies to assist in identifying potential fatigue risks and generating operational insights.

AI-generated outputs are intended to support informed decision-making.

They should not be regarded as medical diagnoses, clinical advice, or guarantees of future events.

Human judgement remains essential when interpreting alerts and recommendations generated by the platform.

7. Emergency Notifications

Where enabled, SentinelAI may use your information to:

- notify designated emergency contacts;
- notify authorised supervisors;
- initiate emergency workflows;
- record emergency incidents.

Emergency notifications are intended to improve response times and should not be relied upon as a substitute for contacting emergency services where immediate assistance is required.

8. Legal Basis for Processing

Where applicable, SentinelAI processes personal information based on one or more of the following:

- your consent;
- performance of a contract;
- compliance with legal obligations;
- protection of legitimate interests;
- protection of vital interests;
- authorised legitimate business purposes consistent with applicable law.

9. Sharing Information

We may share information with:

- your employer or organisation administrator;
- authorised system administrators;
- wearable device partners;
- trusted cloud service providers;
- payment providers;
- technical support providers;
- analytics providers;
- legal authorities where required by law;
- emergency responders where reasonably necessary.

We do not sell your personal information.

10. International Data Transfers

Where information is transferred outside South Africa, SentinelAI will take reasonable steps to ensure that appropriate safeguards are implemented and that the receiving party provides an adequate level of data protection.

11. Data Security

SentinelAI implements reasonable technical and organisational measures designed to protect personal information, including:

- encryption during transmission;
- encrypted storage where appropriate;
- role-based access controls;
- authentication controls;
- audit logging;
- secure cloud infrastructure;
- continuous monitoring;
- vulnerability management;
- backup and disaster recovery procedures.

No system can guarantee absolute security.

12. Data Retention

We retain personal information only for as long as reasonably necessary to:

- provide our services;
- comply with legal obligations;
- resolve disputes;
- enforce agreements;
- improve our services;
- maintain security records.

When information is no longer required, it will be securely deleted, anonymised, or destroyed in accordance with applicable laws.

13. Your Rights

Subject to applicable law, you may:

- request access to your personal information;
- request correction of inaccurate information;
- request deletion where legally permissible;
- object to certain processing activities;
- withdraw consent where processing is based on consent;

- request restrictions on processing where applicable;
- lodge a complaint with the Information Regulator.

SentinelAI may require identity verification before fulfilling requests.

14. Cookies and Similar Technologies

Our website and applications may use cookies, local storage, analytics technologies, and similar tools to improve functionality, security, and user experience.

Users may manage certain cookie preferences through browser settings.

15. Children's Privacy

SentinelAI is intended for users aged 18 years and older unless otherwise authorised by law or through an organisation.

We do not knowingly collect personal information directly from children without appropriate legal authorisation.

16. Third-Party Services

Our platform may integrate with third-party providers, including wearable manufacturers, cloud infrastructure providers, payment providers, authentication providers, mapping services, and communication services.

Their processing of personal information is governed by their own privacy policies.

17. Data Breaches

Where required by law, SentinelAI will investigate suspected security incidents and notify affected parties and relevant regulatory authorities where legally required.

18. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy periodically.

Where material changes are made, users will be notified through appropriate channels, including the application, website, or email.

Continued use of SentinelAI after changes take effect constitutes acceptance of the updated Privacy Policy.
